Vaccine For Polio Is Ready

To Be Available For Over 370,000 Children In Tests About April 12th

NEW YORK (A) - Enough commercially manufactured tiral vaccine to inoculate more than 370,-000 children will be available for the polio field tests about April 12, it was announced today.

Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made the statement in a "status report" to state health officers.

After April 12, he added, "vaccine will be coming forth at a continuous rate to enable us to move rapidly toward the completion of the field trials which will include between 500,000 and one million school children in the first three elementary grades.'

The vaccine to be used will be that developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, of the University of Pittsburgh, under a grant from the Van Riper said Salk would begin today inoculating 2,500 children in the Pittsburgh area with vaccine produced commercially in accordance with Salk's specifications. Salk already has used vaccine produced in his own labora-tory on about 5,000 children.

Van Riper said, "It is expected that Dr. Salk will complete the Van Riper added that as soon tion of these children has elapsed or about April 12—"we will have on hand ready for use approxi-mately 1,113,800 cubic centimeters of vaccine, or enough to inoculate 371,266 children." The foundation's field trials can get well under way with this backlog of vaccine on hand, Van Riper added.

Teachers Hit Back Over Aid

Committee Issues Statement Charging Governor Donnelly's Actions On Funds

JEFFERSON CITY (A) The Missouri State Teachers Association hit back at Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today in the running fight over state aid for schools.

The association's legislative committee issued a statement charging the governor was contradictory, misleading and evasive when he replied last week that he would not ask the current special session to consider school financing as the legislators had demanded.

"It is tragic," the Teachers' Association said, "that when schools are facing unparalleled problems in securing qualified teachers, adequate buildings, decent school buses and the like, that the governor of our state should show such utter lack of information or indifference . . . "The damage he has done Missouri's public schools is irrepar-able . . . He has driven teacher morale to its lowest possible ebb." Ward Barnes, superintendent of schools at Normandy, is chairman of the committee which issued today's nine-page statement. It was accompanied by 24 pages of statistical tables and charts of supporting data from the association's research division. In his statement last week, the governor criticized what he called selfish lobby interests and said they

"cover it up with the old cry of lobby." "Incidentally," it added, "why doesn't he recall the interests represented by him during past years and then see if he should blast those interested in the welfare of "It can be recalled that as recently as between his terms as governor he appeared as a lobbyist for powerful interests opposing bill sponsored by the Kansas

"Only a long distance call could tell them

"It was their silver anniversary. I wanted so much to be with them but I was hundreds of miles away.

"I can't really tell you how much my long distance call meant that day . . . to them and to me. It gave us precious moments together we couldn't have had any other way. I'll never forget how misty my eyes got when Mother said. 'Bless you, dear, for calling.'

More than any gift, more than any written word, a long distance call reaches the hearts of loved ones far away. And by making station-to-station calls, on nights or Sundays, you take advantage of lowest rates and save money.

Merry-Go-Round Gen. Ridgway Draws The Line At Further Budget Trimming

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON-A crisis inside the armed services not unlike that when Adm. Louis Denfield walked out as chief of naval operations is now taking place in connection with the so-called new

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, army chief of staff, and one of the most respected men in the Pentagon, has balked at going along further with drastic military cuts. He has argued that the Army is already reduced too drastically and that as an officer entrusted with the safety of the United States he cannot conscientiously go along with any further reduction.

The arguments so far have been conducted with dignity and deference. There have been no heated exchanges. But the point has been reached where Ridgway, hero of Korea and former chief of NATO, will either have to yield or resign.

It was to give diplomatic support to General Ridgway that Adm. Arthur Radfford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, gave his senate testimony last week that the "new look" and pushbutton warfare might not be the only military

"I believe this nation could be a prisoner of its own military posture," Radfford testified, "if it had no capacity other than one to deliver a massive attack.'

Radford, who has argued against too drastie curtailment of the big carrier program and doesn't favor putting too many ships in mothballs, personally sympathizes with Ridgway. However, he had a long talk with him last week, after which Ridgway declared: "I will answer only to my own conscience."

It first became known how vigorously Ridgway opposed Army cuts when he excused himself from the national security council meeting at which the cuts were finally to be decided. "Previous engagement," was Ridgway's excuse. In the end, Secretary of Defense Wilson ordered him to attend.

At this meeting Ridgway reluctantly agreed to the cuts, and his colleagues on the joint chiefs of staff now plead that, since he once agreed, he must go through with the agreement. However, he is sticking to his guns.

Meanwhile the economizers in the Eisenhower cabinet point out that the mid-Pacific hydrogen explosion has proved more conclusively than ever that ground forces are outmoded. A hydrogen bomb that can affect fishermen 75 miles away, they point out, could contaminate the city of New York, plus Newark and Elizabeth, N. J., Bridgeport, Conn., and up the Hudson to Pough-

Note-Admiral Denfeld resigned when Secretary of Defense Louey Johnson insisted on cutting naval strength. However, Denfeld was publicly active in opposing the defense departmen.t Ridgway was opposed only in private, has let no word of his position leak outside.

Definition of a Filibuster

Newsmen called Mississippi Sen. Jim Eastland's office the other day for an advance copy of a senate speech, attacking Hawaiian state-

"There won't be any copies," cooed a secretary, then explained sweetly: "This isn't going to be a speech. It's to be a filibuster."

Air Merchant Marine The Air Force is running test airlifts to some of its overseas bases in an attempt to prove that it is not only faster, but more economical to supply our overseas forces by air. The Air Force would like to build a huge merchant marine of the air to rush both troops and supplies to any part of the globe over-night. This would make it unnecessary to keep huge stockpiles overseas. The Air Force claims that one of its huge C-132 cargo planes can haul more equipment overseas than a liberty ship—in the same time that it takes the ship to make a round trip.

German Overtures Alfred Von Krupp, whose huge munitions works supplied arms to Hitler even before he took over Germany, and who was sentenced to twelve years imprisonment as a Nazi war criminal, has left Essen, Germany, for Nassau and Mexico City. In the latter country he is slated to confer with President Ruizcortines and Mexican officials about the financing of the new factories, dams, mines or power plants under conditions calculated to cut the ground out from under the U.S.A.

These conditions are: 1. A price paid of 20 per cent down, and the balance to be paid four years after the completion of the factory, dam or project. 2. Krupp will do this without seeking part-German ownership in the enterprise.

3. He will accept payment in any currency, hard or soft, or is even prepared to accept payment in kind.

Krupp's proposals and his tour of Latin America have eaused a lot of eyebrow raising among Latin-American diplomats friendly to the United States and even inside the state department.

"Krupp," remarked one diplomat, "happens to be the product of the Dulles policy of building up Western Germany. Now that Mr. Dulles has helped wash the blood off Mr. Krupp's hands, he lets him go down to Latin America to take our trade away." Note-Krupp already has $160,000,000 in contracts for steel mills in India.

Germany Changes-The West German government has invited three prominent Americans to spend a month in Germany investigating the status of civil rights. The three, all officials of the anti-defamation league, are: Benjamin Epstein, national director of ADL; Jacob Alson, treasurer of ADL and N. C. Belth, ADL publication chief If these three American Jews had been in Germany ten years ago they would have been Hitler's "guests" in a concentration camp.

Russian Espionage - Allied headquarters for southern Europe are under almost constant watch by Communist agents. The Red spies make their headquarters on board Russian ships tied up at Italian docks for fake repairs. Almost every Italian port has a Russian ship under "repairs". But the Russians won't let any workmen aboard and the so-called repairs never seem to get finished. As a result, the Kremlin knows exactly

Severe Penalty Is Due Those Guilty In McCarthy Dispute

By Bruce Biossat

In the nation's interest, a full public hearing into the grave charges and countercharges hurled between Senator McCarthy, his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, and top Army officials was the only course open to the Senate. It is gratifying to learn this will now be done.

Obviously this is not the kind of dispute which can be settled by closed-door compromise, either friendly or forced. A direct test of veracity is involved, and it must be met head-on.

Each side has accused the other of lyingflatly or by implication. For the two groups of adversaries have given absolutely contradictory accounts of what was done and said at specific times and places.

Somebody certainly must be lying, since these matters are not offered as hazy recollections but are supported by various memoranda. Mc-Carthy says he even has tape recordings and a "secret witness" to support his allegations.

If the two sets of charges are repeated when the investigation gets under way, then almost inevitably somebody is going to lay himself open to perjury charges.

Both sides cannot be right and both sides cannot be telling the truth.

What the Army says-speaking through Secretary Stevens and Chief Counsel John Adams -is that McCarthy, Cohn and others of the senator's investigating committee staff sought to obtain special treatment for Draftee David Schine, former committee consultant.

In a lengthy report, the Army charges that Cohn particularly used abusive and threatening language in trying again and again to gain favors for Schine.

In reply, McCarthy and Cohn together deny any attempt to exert undue influence. They contend they put only what they regard as a legitimate request-that Schine be assigned to the New York area so he could help the committee complete work he had been involved with before his induction.

They charge in their turn that the Army twisted this request into a picture of "favor seeking" and then sought to "blackmail" the committee into calling off its investigations of communism in the Army, threatening to release its "false" account if this was not done.

McCarthy even quoted Stevens as trying to bribe the senator by offering "dirt" on the Navy and Air Force. And Adams is portrayed by his adversaries as seeking Cohn's influence in getting a fat job with a private law firm.

No matter which charges are true and which false, this is clearly a sordid episode in U.S. government history. Seldom has the public business in Washington been conducted on so disgraceful a level.

In the coming inquiry, some charges may be proved true. Those that are so proved will reflect the serious misbehavior and misuse of public trust of one or more principals to this dispute. The penalty for such conduct should

Some Moles Need Treatment; Others Should Be Left Alone

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Today's first letter deals with a condition which sounds simple, but which is really complicated, and requires the most expert judgment and treatment.

Q-I should like to know if there is any safe and sure way of removing a mole from the face?-Mrs. O.

A-There is more than one kind of mole, and some should be left alone and others should be treated because of the danger that they might become cancerous. If anything is done the most expert attention is advisable. At the last meeting of the American Medical Association I saw an exhibit on this subject indicating that when moles should be removed at all they should be cut out with a wide margin between the edge of the mole and the normal skin. Whether this or some other method is used depends on the knowledge and judgment of the physician, usually a surgeon or skin specialist.

Q-Why should my husband, who has been somewhat bald for several years, suddenly lose the balance of his hair-Mrs. O. A-It is hard to say, but the most likely explanation is a condition known as alopecia areata, or when all the hair is involved, alopecia totalis. The cause of this condition is not known, but in a high proportion of cases the hair will eventually grow back.

Q-Please discuss the value of B6 vitamin in the preventing of hardening of the arteries.

A-I am not aware that vitamin B6 or any orther vitamin or drug has been proved beyond doubt to be of any value whatever in preventing hardening of the arteries.

Q-Is there a cure for ringworm of the toenail?-Mrs. D. E.

A-When ringworm or dermatophytosis attacks the toenails or fingernails it becomes exceedingly difficult to treat successfully. The skin specialists employ various measures, often including X-ray treatments, and eventually the condition can usually be cleared up.

Q-What is catalepsy and what causes it? Is there a treatment?-Mrs. A. W.

A-This is a peculiar condition in which the muscles become rigid so that if some other person moves an arm or leg, for example, the limb will remain in the position in which it has been placed. It is considered to be a symptom of mental disease and consequently the treatment depends on how successfully the underlying mental condition can be attacked.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT-Sedalia, Mo., Mon., Mar. 22. 1954

THE STORY: An extortion plot led to the murder of Police Chief Otto Drover in Colorado City. Police Lieut, Mark Richards and Private Detective Jim Dunn, inveatigating the erime, found the body of Edward Stone, jr., son of Mayor Stone, at the spot where extortion money was paid. Reconstructing the erime, the officers decided the young man, a mental defective, land been persuaded to do his part in the crime, the actual stabbing of the chief. Going to Mayor Stone's residence, they found Mrs. Hughes there. She is the wife of the acting chief of police.

Thos. Hudson Gets Diploma For Gemology

Thomas Hudson, 1821 South Prospect, Sedalia, was recently awarded a diploma in the theory of gemology by the Gemological Institute of America, Los Angeles. Holders of these diplomas are recognized as the specialists of the gem field.

The courses offered by the institute teach its students the know-how and why of all precious stones and gem minerals. It is the only course of its kind which offers a complete study of the diamond and a study of silverware and other precious metals, in addition to complete coverage of all colored gemstones. All the necessary laboratory techniques for modern scientific identification of gemstones and diamond grading and appraisal are included in this comprehensive correspondence course which covers every phase of the jewelry industry including merchandising.

The institute's correspondence course is no quick, six week sprint that turns out a gem expert in a few easy lessons. On the average, three and one half years are required to complete this wellrounded course.

The Gemological Institue was established in 1931 as an answer to the need of the jeweler for a centralized source of authoritative information. By this dissemination of information the jeweler is protected-and through him the

Co. Drought Emergency Aid Continues

The Pettis County Drought Emergency Committee has been informed that the Drought Program will be continued until April 15, 1954, and that application for available feed may be filed until April 1, announces Robert W. Rissler, chairman of the committee.

Rissler states that corn and wheat are available under this program for feed to foundation stock! of cattle and replacement heifers and for sheep. Pettis County farmers now purchasing corn are obtaining it in Saline County at the CCC bin sites located at Malta Bend or Slater, Missouri. Payment for the corn is being made at the Saline County ASC Office, Marshall, Mo. Wheat available is being shipped in by CSS Commodity Office and at the present time there is no supply on hand in this county however one car is on order and receipt is expected at any time.

Farmers needing an additional supply of corn to carry them through April 15 should therefore make application for this feed at the county ASC office no later than March 31.

Rissler also reports that a supply of 166 hundredweight of cottonseed meal received under the Drought Emergency Program in excess of the amount needed to supply approved farmer requests is on hand and will be offered under sealed bids to farmers for feed only on the basis of "as is where is". The feed is in hundred pound bags and is located at the La Monte Elevator, La Monte, Mo. Bids forms may be obtained and filed no later than 10 a.m., March 27, 1954, at the Pettis County ASC Office, 2091/2 So. Ohio, Sedalia, on any part or all of this available feed. Approval of bids will be made by the CSS Commodity Office of Kansas City, Mo.

FERTILIZATION SHOWS ITSELF-This terracing level tripod and rod are marking a five foot strip in Roy Petty's certified Piper Sudan field where no anhydrous ammonia was used. The rest had a bout 100 pounds per acre applied just before seeding in late May. As can be seen, the untreated part was a foot shorter than the trea ted area and much lighter in color. Later, Roy said, the cattle had eaten the fertilized sudan down so the untreated area was actually the tallest for a while. This 51/2 acre field has pretty well carried 18 cows the last two years. Mr. Potty plows it in the fall, adds manure and fertilizer in the winter and discs it in the spring. Early plowing is important. A neighbor plowed a field where barley had been pastured off and planted it the same day as Mr. Petty. Only a little of the seed came up.

On Third Day

Along the C&O Canal in Western Maryland (A)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and a steadily dwindling party of hiking companions pushed forward today on their 184-mile walk to Washington, D. C.

At the end of their third day's ourney lay Fort Frederick State Park and the only night of camping in the open the party plans before its scheduled arrival in Washington Saturday.

The group spent last night at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club near Hancock, Md., 37 miles southeast of Cumberland, Md., where they started out Saturday morning. Douglas is seeking to demon-strate to two Washington editorial writers, and others who joined the group, that the natural beauties of the government-owned Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be marred by construction of a proposed federal highway.

His challenge to the editorial writers, who favored the parkway, resulted in the eight-day journey. In the first day of slogging over muddy trails, and in yesterday's blustery weather which included even a few snow flurries, the expedition shrank from 34 to about 25 who planned to continue today's eg of about 20 miles.

The walking pace also slowed rom an average of a little over four miles an hour the first day to three miles an hour yesterday. Liniment was being liberally ap-Most of the nine who quit the party, though, were newsmen, government officials and others who

The rugged justice, who relishes outdoor life, showed little sign of fatigue. Charles P. Thomas, the from Washington and oldest man in the group, also was going strong.
